

Cover Art

Healing Man

Dean Baker

September, 2007

Some years ago John Stuart Reid asked me to create a graphic of a standing man with bubbles emerging from his mouth. He went on to explain the concept that almost all sounds are spherical. This was something of a revelation to me and it is now hard not to walk down a street or sit in a café and not visualize sound bubbles emitting from people's mouths!

Recently, I met with John and he shared with me the Edgar Cayce prophecy that sound will one day be our most powerful healing modality. He believes it is a future that lies not far away. He invited me to create a graphic to symbolise sound healing and we toyed with several possibilities. Several cups of tea later I suggested a prone man with incoming concentric energy bands to represent healing sounds. 'Healing Man' was, therefore, born out of John Stuart Reid's vision of a world in which energy medicine will, one day, prevail over drug therapy.

Bio note

Dean Baker is an innovative graphic designer with 18 years experience in both the commercial and private sectors. He is available for private commission. To view his work go to www.bakercomarsh.co.uk . He lives in the heart of England with his graphic designer wife, Ann-marie and daughter, Amelie.

International Society for the Study of Subtle Energies and Energy Medicine